

Wedding Balls.

BURROWS—CORDWELL.

Considerable interest was evinced in the marriage of Beatie, only daughter of Mr J. Cordwell, and Cyril Malcolm, second son of Mrs A. Burrows, which took place at the Church of England, Leonora, on Monday last, 3rd inst. Both parties are well known and exceedingly popular in the district, and were brought up on the fields. The bride, with the exception of a trip to England with her parents when a baby had never left the State, and the bridegroom only when he was at the war, at which he saw four years service with the A.I.F.

The church, which was tastefully decorated for the occasion by the bride's friends, was filled to overflowing by well-wishers long before the ceremony took place, which was performed by the Rev L. A. Marina. The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father looked charming in a white satin dress handsomely trimmed with silver lace, and her beautifully handworked veil and bouquet of lovely white lilies completed a very dainty toilette. The first bridesmaid, Miss Ethel Hamilton, was prettily gowned in champagne georgette, trimmed with huckle beads; whilst her assistant, Miss Trixie Lewin presented a dainty appearance in her exquisite gown of crepe de chine, beautifully set off with beaded trimmings. Both maids carried pretty bouquets of flowers to strew with their respective trucks. Mr Neil Burrows, brother of the bridegroom officiated as best man, and the duties of groomsmen were ably carried out by Mr Harry Pollitt, cousin of the bride, who was given away by her father. The happy young couple left the church to the accompaniment of the good wishes of the onlookers and the never forgotten showers of rice and confetti.

After the ceremony the relatives of the bride and bridegroom gathered at the residence of Mr and Mrs J. A. Thomson (uncle and aunt of the bride), where the wedding breakfast was partaken of. Toasts usual to such an event were duly honoured.

The wedding presents were numerous and costly.

In the evening a dance was held in Webb's Hall in honour of the young couple, and was attended by a large couple, and was attended by a large number of relatives, and friends. At supper Mrs D. Biemel, and Mr A. H. Crompt and Rev L. A. Marina proposed toasts. Each spoke eulogistically of the sterling qualities of the bride and bridegroom, and wished them every success in their future life—a wish that was heartily endorsed by all present. Dancing was kept up till the wee sma' hours, and thoroughly enjoyed.

The happy young couple left per motor car for Malcolm after the dance, and entrained there for Kalgoorlie, where they will spend a few days on their honeymoon prior to taking up their permanent home in Leonora. The bride's travelling dress was a white serge costume with champagne mirlonia hat.

With the rest of the people of the district we wish Mr and Mrs Cyril Burrows the best of good luck, health, wealth and prosperity for the future.
